

Rosemary Carrick

Director of Development / Project Rozana

Rosemary has spent more than a decade working in the not-for-profit sector. She has a deep, long-held belief in the profound impact that philanthropy can have on the lives of the vulnerable and disadvantaged.

As Director of Development for the Australian NGO, Project Rozana, for the past four years, she has witnessed how the collective action of civil society organisations, governments and philanthropy, can move the dial on the most intractable global problems.

An Albury native who spent much of her early adult life living overseas, and now calls Sydney home, she is thrilled to be back in the birthplace of her beloved Albury Tigers.
